

THE BIG FIGHT WILL OCCUR AS SCHEDULED LEGAL ACTION FAILS

BETTING ODDS 2 TO 1 ON DEMPSEY—BUT CARPENTIER STOCK IS LOOKING UP

U. P. WRITER PREDICTS DEMPSEY WILL WIN NOT LATER THAN 4TH ROUND

BY HENRY FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

New York, July 1—Jack Dempsey will finish Georges Carpentier when he hits him with his left hand. Maybe it will be the first round, perhaps not until the third, but not later than the fifth.

That is my opinion after watching both principals up until almost the last minute.

It seems that Carpentier's stock has jumped in the last forty-eight hours. Tales of the worry and anxiety that Dempsey is going through apparently has caused some of his backers to seek lower odds than three to one.

We do not underestimate the ability of the Frenchman. Carpentier is smart and a fast boxer and can hit a slow moving man. He will hit the champion of course, because it is well known Dempsey can be hit. But Carpentier can not hit with enough power to knock him out. The Frenchman can run and prolong his downfall but Dempsey will catch him.

With all legal objections removed by the statement of Governor Edwards the reformers' efforts will be unavailable, and the action of the New Jersey boxing commission giving approval of all arrangements and license, Tex Rickard's only trouble now is the weather.

New York looks anything but promising this morning. The skies look like drab grey London.

Arena is Completed
The "fight of the century" today became a matter of hours and minutes.

The arena seating ninety-one thousand persons is completed. The ring was ready for the entry of the gladiators.

Nearly one thousand police and firemen went through the final drills for the handling of all fight fans.

Ferry and railway lines rushed up their extra equipment to care for the jam.

New York hotels were filled until army cots were placed in the halls.

Jack Dempsey was to leave his training camp in secret to occupy secluded quarters in Jersey City.

Georges Carpentier remained hidden away in his Long Island camp and will leave by automobile tomorrow morning for Jersey City.

The betting odds still favor the champion three to one with a slight tendency to decline.

The weather bureau promised fair weather.

Will Win in Fifth Round

Georges Carpentier will knock Jack Dempsey out in the fifth round tomorrow, his manager, Francois Desamps, told Promoter Tex Rickard today.

The prophecy was made when Desamps called on the promoter for a final conference.

Arena Grounds Soaked

Jersey City, July 1—The appearance of the arena today indicated that old man Noah should have staged the fight instead of Tex Rickard.

The drizzling rain which had continued through the night and forenoon was increasing in intensity.

The 130 acres around the arena was taking on the appearance of an inland sea. The rain might well have been a continuation of the time that Noah ran the excursion boat to Mt. Ararat.

Scores of workmen clad in oil skins were putting the finishing touches on the arena. Their appearance as they paddled about the puddles was that of some sort of prehistoric amphibians.

Thick felt pads had been placed on the floor of the ring to relieve the shock when one of the fighters goes down. The felt had been replaced by a tarpaulin.

Electricians were installing wires and telegraph instruments including the wires over which the United Press clients will receive blow by blow descriptions of the fight.

Hundreds of natives representing ages from seven to seventy gathered about the arena in little knots discussing how "Jack will knock 'Carp' for a goal" or "The Frenchman will tear Dempsey's 'can.'"

Near the main entrance a big tent had been erected with the significant sign, "Hospital unit." Officials refused to say whether Dempsey or Carpentier had reserved it.

INCREASE HOUSE MEMBERSHIP 25

IS THE PREDICTION OF CONG. SIEGEL, CHAIRMAN OF HOUSE CENSUS COMMITTEE

(By United Press)
Washington, July 1—An increase of 25 in the membership of the house bringing it up to 460, will be authorized at this session of congress, Rep. Siegel, of New York, chairman of the census committee, predicted today.

Such a re-apportionment, which would be based on the 1920 census, provides for a reduction in representatives of only two seats—Maine and Missouri. The delegation in the house of the two states would be reduced one each.

During the last session the house voted to retain the membership at its present size of 434 members, which would have meant reduction in the representation of several states.

BANDITS ATTEMPT HOLDUP EXPRESS, SHOOT MESSENGER

WHO TRIED TO FIGHT THE BANDITS AWAY WHEN THEY ENTERED CAR

(By United Press)

Covington, Ind., July 1—Two bandits shot and wounded the express messenger and attempted to hold up to night express on the Peoria & Eastern division of the Big Four between Covington and Veedersburg early today.

Frank J. Beckman, 45, the messenger, tried to fight the men away when they forced an entrance to his car. He was shot twice through the thigh and was taken to the Deaconess hospital at Indianapolis.

The wounds while not serious were severe and Beckman was unable to tell the details of the robbery.

The bandits obtained seven railway remittance drafts which were said to be valueless to them since the railroad can stop payment on the drafts.

They did not force the safe which was in one corner of the car and contained a bag of money.

The men left the train at Veedersburg. Beckman was found by a mail clerk lying bound hand and foot on the floor of the car with furniture and other express articles piled around him.

Two men were arrested here as suspects and two others were arrested at Veedersburg for examination. Beckman's home is in Indianapolis.

Heavy Rains at Chippewa Falls

Chippewa Falls, July 1—A heavy rain storm accompanied by high wind did some damage in this section late today.

Boys Arrested for Theft of Alcohol

Fargo, July 1—Theft of a large amount of alcohol and merchandise from a Northern Pacific freight house was revealed here today when a United States marshal arrested four boys. They gave their names as Reuben and Walter Gullickson, Ray Woolworth and Bennie Severson. The alcohol was transported to a woodshed and emptied into containers. The containers were secreted in a haystack. The loot was valued as several hundred dollars.

United States District Attorney Hildreth said the arrests were part of a big cleanup campaign.

State Closes Case Against Gummer

Fargo, N. D., July 1—The state closed its case against Wm. Gummer today and States Attorney Green hopes to hold him for the district court on the charge of murdering 18-year-old Marie Wick.

The defense moved for a dismissal claiming that Gummer's statements were the result of third degree tactics. The court sustained objection of the states attorney and admitted all evidence.

RATE DECREE HAILED AS STATE VICTORY

I. C. C. ORDER GIVES WAREHOUSE COMMISSION FARE CONTROL OVER CERTAIN MINNESOTA RAILWAYS

Minneapolis, July 1—Announcement from Washington that the Interstate Commerce commission has modified its recent order with regard to fares and charges within the state of Minnesota and limits its effect solely to roads doing interstate business, was hailed by Minnesota experts as a victory for states' rights.

"It means that the interstate commerce commission has taken account of the question of states' rights, which has not been fully recognized in the past year or two," said A. L. Flinn, rate expert for the railroad and warehouse commission, which applied for the revision.

The order will mean that the state railroad and warehouse commission, according to Mr. Flinn, will have control over rate matters of the following railroads:

Minneapolis, Red Lake & Manitoba, Minneapolis Northwestern Electric, Minneapolis, Northfield & Southern, Minneapolis & Rainy River, Electric Short Line, Duluth & Northern Minnesota, Hill City railroad and the Minnesota, Dakota & Western.

No purely electric line, such as the St. Paul Southern, will come under the new ruling of the commission. The law provides that if the annual earnings of a railroad are in excess of $1,200 a mile, the passenger rate shall not be more than 2 cents a mile and that otherwise the rate can be 3 cents a mile.

This ruling, according to Mr. Flinn, will not affect the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, the Minnesota & International or other lines doing business entirely within the state, but which lines are parties to interstate tariff and sell tickets over roads other than their own.

BURGULARS LOCK BUTCHER IN REFRIGERATOR

BIRTHDAY OF PROHIBITION SEES NEW DRY CRUSADE

NEW FORCE OF DETECTIVES TO START ON TRAIL OF THE BOOTLEGGERS

(By United Press)

Washington, July 1—On the occasion of his second birthday of national prohibition today, Federal prohibition Commissioner Roy Haynes was building up his enforcement army of dry detectives for a new onslaught on bootleggers and enemies of the Volstead law.

Haynes plans to make the third year of national prohibition a much more near bone dry period than the first two, he said. Beginning today, the prohibition unit will be able to draw on a new appropriation of more than $2,000,000 to fill places of detectives and inspectors laid off because cash ran out forty days ago. More than 700 enforcement agents were laid off in May because the 1921 appropriation ran out.

With new funds available, however, Haynes is in a position to engage new and trained workers and throw into each big city a flying squadron of dry sleuths to terrify bootleggers and proprietors of alleged soft drink emporiums who secretly try to deal out better than one-half percent beer.

The prohibition unit will begin the new year with a more nearly perfect system as a second line of defense against bootlegging and illegal sale and underground distribution of contraband booze.

To make the year more nearly pleasing to prohibition enforcement officials, Congress soon will be asked by Attorney General Daugherty to set up a system of booze courts which will transact only business relating to prohibition enforcement. With these courts in operation, retribution in the shape of heavy fines and jail terms will be dealt out with little delay to persons caught running the rum blockade of dry detectives. Delay in bringing violators to justice because the ordinary courts of New York and all big cities are clogged with prohibition cases, has been one of the factors making prohibition laws hard to enforce, according to government officials.

And to make Haynes' drive on law breakers more and more effective, several branches of the government are co-operating with him, as well as city, state and county officials in all sections.

Chief Ashworth of the U. S. Customs Service has laid down a barrage of customs detectives along the Canadian border to halt international booze smugglers. The Florida keys are being guarded against liquor smuggled from Cuba, not only by the customs service but also by the U. S. coast guards. And in big cities like New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, St. Louis, Chicago, Denver and San Francisco, police and state officials now are putting their hands to the wheel to move their territory into an atmosphere of aridity.

Considering the situation from these points of view, Commissioner Haynes is pleased with the possibility of making the country nearly 100 percent dry during the next twelve months.

"At any rate," he said today, "we'll make it blamed unpleasant to be a bootlegger."

Haynes and few government officials believe that real 100 percent pure prohibition can be clamped down on the entire country.

Prohibition, they point out, is too new to be completely effective at once. But progress toward complete dryness is being made daily, they say, backed by a rapidly developing public sentiment for absolute and impartial enforcement of the law.

War-time prohibition, when the country took its first step towards a dry basis, began two years ago today. On that day all sales of liquor for internal consumption was prohibited by law. This measure, however, was intended to be merely temporary and to continue in effect only for a short time after the close of hostilities. But before that period was reached, constitutional prohibition became effective and the prohibition enforcement unit was set up at Washington. Until a short time ago nearly 2,000 federal agents were scattered through the country watching for violations of the Volstead law. Then came the big layoff. Now, however, this is to be corrected.

During the first two years of prohibition, the country has consumed more than 40,000,000 gallons of liquor according to reports on withdrawals from bonded warehouses. Prohibition unit officials say that part of this reached bootleggers and was consumed internally, although the permits under which it was withdrawn were intended to prevent the use of liquor except for non-beverage purposes.

More than 100,000 persons have been arrested in the campaign to enforce the law, it is estimated here. The exact number of arrests is not known since tabulations in the possession of the prohibition unit are not yet completed.

SINN FEIN LEADERS MEET UNHAMPERED FIRST TIME IN YEAR

LEADERS RELEASED FROM PRISON TO CONSIDER LLOYD GEORGE'S OFFER OF MEETING

(By United Press)

London, July 1—For the first time in more than a year Sinn Fein leaders met unhampered today.

"President" DeValera was free to go where he pleased. Likewise Arthur Griffith and Professor John McNeill, celebrated Sinn Fein leaders, were at large being released from Mt. Joy prison. Other prominent Sinn Feiners were freed at the same time.

Although official information was lacking here, it was believed that DeValera and Griffith would confer immediately on Premier Lloyd George's proffer of a meeting.

Moderates among the Sinn Feiners were understood to be urging DeValera to answer Lloyd George's invitation if he can go as a recognized spokesman for all Ireland.

Those who urge this action declared he will strengthen his position by thrashing out all questions with the British and Ulster premiers.

U. S. FILES SUIT CHARGING CEMENT MAKERS IN TRUST

ATTORNEY GENERAL DECLARES ASSOCIATION PRODUCED 99 PER CENT OF BUILDING MATERIAL USED IN NORTHEAST

New York, July 1—The government yesterday filed a civil suit in federal court against 19 corporations and four individuals composing the Cement Manufacturers Protective association, charging violation of the anti-trust law.

Washington, July 1—Attorney General H. M. Daugherty announced yesterday that civil proceedings charging violation of the anti-trust law would be instituted today in the federal trust court at New York against the Cement Manufacturers Protective association, and its officers and members.

He said members of the association produced approximately 90 per cent of the total Portland cement used in the northeastern section of the United States.

Mr. Daugherty said the proceedings would supplement criminal actions instituted last March and would not in any way stop prosecution of the pending criminal case. The court might order, he said, an effective dissolution of the combination and enjoin its members from reconstituting their association, thereby affording the public substantial and practical relief without regard to results in the criminal case.

An expose of the operations of the alleged cement trust was brought out during the building graft investigation in New York by the Lusk committee.

RATE DECREE HAILED AS STATE VICTORY

I. C. C. ORDER GIVES WAREHOUSE COMMISSION FARE CONTROL OVER CERTAIN MINNESOTA RAILWAYS

Minneapolis, July 1—Announcement from Washington that the Interstate Commerce commission has modified its recent order with regard to fares and charges within the state of Minnesota and limits its effect solely to roads doing interstate business, was hailed by Minnesota experts as a victory for states' rights.

"It means that the interstate commerce commission has taken account of the question of states' rights, which has not been fully recognized in the past year or two," said A. L. Flinn, rate expert for the railroad and warehouse commission, which applied for the revision.

The order will mean that the state railroad and warehouse commission, according to Mr. Flinn, will have control over rate matters of the following railroads:

Minneapolis, Red Lake & Manitoba, Minneapolis Northwestern Electric, Minneapolis, Northfield & Southern, Minneapolis & Rainy River, Electric Short Line, Duluth & Northern Minnesota, Hill City railroad and the Minnesota, Dakota & Western.

No purely electric line, such as the St. Paul Southern, will come under the new ruling of the commission. The law provides that if the annual earnings of a railroad are in excess of $1,200 a mile, the passenger rate shall not be more than 2 cents a mile and that otherwise the rate can be 3 cents a mile.

This ruling, according to Mr. Flinn, will not affect the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad, the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, the Minnesota & International or other lines doing business entirely within the state, but which lines are parties to interstate tariff and sell tickets over roads other than their own.

(By United Press)

Washington, July 1—On the occasion of his second birthday of national prohibition today, Federal Prohibition Commissioner Roy Haynes was building up his enforcement army of dry detectives for a new onslaught on bootleggers and enemies of the Volstead law.

Haynes plans to make the third year of national prohibition a much more near bone dry period than the first two, he said. Beginning today, the prohibition unit will be able to draw on a new appropriation of more than $2,000,000 to fill places of detectives and inspectors laid off because cash ran out forty days ago. More than 700 enforcement agents were laid off in May because the 1921 appropriation ran out.

With new funds available, however, Haynes is in a position to engage new and trained workers and throw into each big city a flying squadron of dry sleuths to terrify bootleggers and proprietors of alleged soft drink emporiums who secretly try to deal out better than one-half percent beer.

The prohibition unit will begin the new year with a more nearly perfect system as a second line of defense against bootlegging and illegal sale and underground distribution of contraband booze.

To make the year more nearly pleasing to prohibition enforcement officials, Congress soon will be asked by Attorney General Daugherty to set up a system of booze courts which will transact only business relating to prohibition enforcement. With these courts in operation, retribution in the shape of heavy fines and jail terms will be dealt out with little delay to persons caught running the rum blockade of dry detectives. Delay in bringing violators to justice because the ordinary courts of New York and all big cities are clogged with prohibition cases, has been one of the factors making prohibition laws hard to enforce, according to government officials.

And to make Haynes' drive on law breakers more and more effective, several branches of the government are co-operating with him, as well as city, state and county officials in all sections.

Chief Ashworth of the U. S. Customs Service has laid down a barrage of customs detectives along the Canadian border to halt international booze smugglers. The Florida keys are being guarded against liquor smuggled from Cuba, not only by the customs service but also by the U. S. coast guards. And in big cities like New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Baltimore, St. Louis, Chicago, Denver and San Francisco, police and state officials now are putting their hands to the wheel to move their territory into an atmosphere of aridity.

Considering the situation from these points of view, Commissioner Haynes is pleased with the possibility of making the country nearly 100 percent dry during the next twelve months.

"At any rate," he said today, "we'll make it blamed unpleasant to be a bootlegger."

Haynes and few government officials believe that real 100 percent pure prohibition can be clamped down on the entire country.

Prohibition, they point out, is too new to be completely effective at once. But progress toward complete dryness is being made daily, they say, backed by a rapidly developing public sentiment for absolute and impartial enforcement of the law.

Wartime prohibition, when the country took its first step towards a dry basis, began two years ago today. On that day all sales of liquor for internal consumption was prohibited by law. This measure, however, was intended to be merely temporary and to continue in effect only for a short time after the close of hostilities. But before that period was reached, constitutional prohibition became effective and the prohibition enforcement unit was set up at Washington. Until a short time ago nearly 2,000 federal agents were scattered through the country watching for violations of the Volstead law. Then came the big layoff. Now, however, this is to be corrected.

During the first two years of prohibition, the country has consumed more than 40,000,000 gallons of liquor according to reports on withdrawals from bonded warehouses. Prohibition unit officials say that part of this reached bootleggers and was consumed internally, although the permits under which it was withdrawn were intended to prevent the use of liquor except for non-beverage purposes.

More than 100,000 persons have been arrested in the campaign to enforce the law, it is estimated here. The exact number of arrests is not known since tabulations in the possession of the prohibition unit are not yet completed.

SINN FEIN LEADERS MEET UNHAMPERED FIRST TIME IN YEAR

LEADERS RELEASED FROM PRISON TO CONSIDER LLOYD GEORGE'S OFFER OF MEETING

(By United Press)

London, July 1—For the first time in more than a year Sinn Fein leaders met unhampered today.

"President" DeValera was free to go where he pleased. Likewise Arthur Griffith and Professor John McNeill, celebrated Sinn Fein leaders, were at large being released from Mt. Joy prison. Other prominent Sinn Feiners were freed at the same time.

Although official information was lacking here, it was believed that DeValera and Griffith would confer immediately on Premier Lloyd George's proffer of a meeting.

Moderates among the Sinn Feiners were understood to be urging DeValera to answer Lloyd George's invitation if he can go as a recognized spokesman for all Ireland.

Those who urge this action declared he will strengthen his position by thrashing out all questions with the British and Ulster premiers.

U. S. FILES SUIT CHARGING CEMENT MAKERS IN TRUST

ATTORNEY GENERAL DECLARES ASSOCIATION PRODUCED 99 PER CENT OF BUILDING MATERIAL USED IN NORTHEAST

New York, July 1—The government yesterday filed a civil suit in federal court against 19 corporations and four individuals composing the Cement Manufacturers Protective association, charging violation of the anti-trust law.

Washington, July 1—Attorney General H. M. Daugherty announced yesterday that civil proceedings charging violation of the antitrust law would be instituted today in the federal trust court at New York against the Cement Manufacturers Protective association, and its officers and members.

He said members of the association produced approximately 99 per cent of the total Portland cement used in the northeastern section of the United States.

Mr. Daugherty said the proceedings would supplement criminal actions instituted last March and would not in any way stop prosecution of the pending criminal case. The court might order, he said, an effective dissolution of the combination and enjoin its members from reconstituting their association, thereby affording the public substantial and practical relief without regard to results in the criminal case.

An expose of the operations of the alleged cement trust was brought out during the building graft investigation in New York by the Lusk committee.

How Can I Get a Home of My Own On Terms I Can Afford to Pay? Answer by P. B. Nettleton who has led and smoothed the way for over fifty Brainerd families to do this very thing. I sell large rich garden and resident lots for a low price on small payments; I own the newest and best cement block machine invented and made in Brainerd, so one can make their own blocks. Since we have sand here we only have to buy cement from outside. Use one part cement to four or five parts sand—it makes the cheapest building material known. Make the blocks yourself, many lay them too, all outside of their usual working hours. Enclose the home, move in, save rent and finish the house when you can. You are never out of work because you can always improve your grounds and house in spare hours. When you would be earning nothing otherwise, use your wages in paying for your home instead of paying for somebody else's home in rent and yet the other fellow owns it. All interested should call and examine the cement blocks, and state what you can afford to pay. I will do my best to show you how you can make a little money go a long way towards a new home, on your own spacious grounds. This offer is open this month only as I expect to arrange for all I can handle during July. First comers get the best choice of lots of course. P. B. Nettleton, Brainerd, Minn. Tree as Nursemaid.

"The larch or tamarack, is the best 'nurse,'" said the forester, who was busy planting a double line of little larches on the edge of a new plantation. He explained that the strong, quick-growing larch was the best tree to protect others from frost and drought. "And if you are planting a beech hedge," he added, "it will pay you to plant white-thorn on the windward side, for the white-thorn will protect the beech and can be cut back later when it has served its purpose."

Tiles of Pearls.

Mother-of-pearl tiles, for bathrooms or other decorative use, are the new invention of Albert and Caesar Vuilleumier, of Philadelphia. The heat wave of the past two weeks with a temperature equalling July or August, has started the wave of tourist travel to the lake region of Minnesota. Summer homes at the lakes are eagerly rented and reservations at lake hotels are filling up. There is a dearth of camp sites. The tourist free camp site at Brainerd is well patronized. Water and light are conveniences recently added to this camp ground at White park near the river.

How Can I Get a Home of My Own On Terms I Can Afford to Pay? Answer by P. B. Nettleton who has led and smoothed the way for over fifty Brainerd families to do this very thing. I sell large rich garden and resident lots for a low price on small payments; I own the newest and best cement block machine invented and made in Brainerd, so one can make their own blocks. Since we have said here we only have to buy cement from outside. Use one part cement to four or five parts sand—it makes the cheapest building material known. Make the blocks yourself, many lay them too, all outside of their usual working hours. Enclose the home, move in, save rent and finish the house when you can. You are never out of work because you can always improve your grounds and house in spare hours. When you would be earning nothing otherwise, use your wages in paying for your home instead of paying for somebody else's home in rent and yet the other fellow owns it. All interested should call and examine the cement blocks, and state what you can afford to pay. I will do my best to show you how you can make a little money go a long way towards a new home, on your own spacious grounds. This offer is open this month only as I expect to arrange for all I can handle during July. First comers get the best choice of lots of course. P. B. Nettleton, Brainerd, Minn. Tree as Nursemaid.

"The larch or tamarack, is the best nurse," said the forester, who was busy planting a double line of little larches on the edge of a new plantation. He explained that the strong, quick-growing larch was the best tree to protect others from frost and drought. "And if you are planting a beech hedge," he added, "it will pay you to plant white-thorn on the windward side, for the white-thorn will protect the beech and can be cut back later when it has served its purpose."

Tiles of Pearls.

Mother-of-pearl tiles, for bathrooms or other decorative use, are the new invention of Albert and Caesar Vuilleumier, of Philadelphia. The shells of pearly mussels are crushed to powder and mixed with just enough cement to render the material plastic. It is then molded into tiles or slabs, and the surface is ground and polished for a pretty finish.

Good Friday.

Has been observed since the earliest days of Christianity in memory of the crucifixion of Christ, which event is said to have occurred Friday, April 15, 29 A. D., or April 3, 33, A. D. The expression "Good (probably God's) Friday" is said to be peculiar to the Church of England. It is observed the Friday before Easter.

GAS MAN PEEVED OVER CITY ACTION

Writes Letter to Mayor F. E. Little and is Displeased Over Council and Chamber of Commerce

GAS RATE TERMED "2 BY 4" ITEM
"Sorry City Did Not Employ a Man Who Knew Gas Business to Tell Them What to Do"

When the city council's special committee on gas recommended to the city council that the proposed gas franchise with a $2.80 rate plus service charges, etc., was too high and that such a franchise be not accepted, and the council accepted the report and concurred in the recommendation, such action apparently peeved Fred W. Freeze, who had made application for the franchise, and he wrote a warm letter to Mayor F. E. Little in which he rebuked the council, the Chamber of Commerce, etc., and incidentally put in a good word for his friend, A. G. Whitney of St. Cloud.

Citizens of Brainerd are not dissatisfied with the special gas committee and Mayor F. E. Little who voluntarily spent much time in examining the gas situation, gas rates, service, etc., and the various provisions of the proposed franchise.

Such a matter cannot be entered into in a few hours or days or weeks, for when entered into it becomes a permanent affair. The city has had one gas experience and many householders put in quite a large investment in gas ranges, heaters, etc. It was not alone in regard to rates but because of many other provisions, that the committee rejected it.

The letter of Mr. Freeze is given in full and gives his ideas from his own viewpoint:

Ft. Wayne, Ind.,
June 29, 1921.

Mayor F. E. Little,
Brainerd, Minn.
Dear Sir:

Your telegram saying "Cannot Accept Franchise as offered"; signed "Council Gas Committee, Little, Chairman," just received.

I wish to say that you made no explanation as to what was wrong with the Franchise but as long as it has taken over four weeks to make up your mind, can only say that I would not be interested in the Franchise any more, as it would be the first of September now before this plant could be started which would only be a dead overhead until next spring.

I am sorry that you did not employ a man who knew the gas business to tell you what to do instead of making your own comparison which you are not capable of doing as long as it was not in your line. I would, however, say that it seems to me like a crime to let a man come to town as Mr. Whitney did and build a gas plant for Brainerd, then tie his hands and feet so that he can only stand back and see his property go to ruin, and if Brainerd's city council are going to handle utilities in this way, they might better close the doors of its Chamber of Commerce and such other organizations as are wanting to do good for every town and just simply let it be known that if outside capital ever comes to town that you will either steal it or put it in such shape that it cannot operate, with any financial returns.

I wish to thank you for the time and attention you have given this matter and would only suggest that in the future when a man comes to your town and means business give him a decision and show that your council has some capacity and does not need any four weeks to decide on a two by four item like this has been.

Yours truly,
F. W. FREEZE

OBJECTS TO A SMALL ARMY

Voices Feeling of His Organization in Saying This Is Selfishly Placing the Burden on the "Men Who Did It Before."

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
Washington.—John H. Emery, wounded veteran of the great war, who has been chosen by the executive committee of the American Legion as the organization's commander to fill out the unexpired term of Col. F. W. Galbraith, who met his death accidentally recently, has been in Washington. With Col. Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, he called upon President Harding and upon the officials of the War department.

Commander Emery, as are all Legionnaires, is much interested in the work soon to be undertaken of recruiting the reserves of the army, and in forwarding a part of lasting good will between the civilians who fought in the last war and the officers and men of the regular army.

Mr. Emery was wounded in the left arm in France, so badly wounded that he has comparatively little use of the injured member today. He regrets apparently that this physical disability prevents him from accepting a commission in the reserves of the United States army.

I had a talk with Commander Emery. He spoke as one Legion member to another. He epitomized the lesson which I think it is the desire of the American Legion officials to see fulfilled in spirit and in truth in the ranks of the former soldiers.

Would Be Soldier Citizens.
He said, "We were known as citizen soldiers; I hope that we will be known now as soldier citizens." This breathes the spirit of the service which seems to be in the hearts of the Legionnaires today.

American Legion officials are interested deeply in the recent legislation which cuts the American army to a force of 150,000 men. Of course no Legion man thinks that an army of this size is sufficient for the needs of the republic, even in peace times. They feel also that the cut reflects what to the Legionnaires seems to be the selfish feeling of the law makers—that if war comes, and there is not an adequate first line of defense force in the regular army, the men "who did it before" will instantly be willing to do it again.

Of course, as the ex-soldiers seem to view it, the men of the Legion and of other veteran organizations patriotically will offer their services to do it again, but nevertheless there is a feeling that the million young men who come to military age every year in this republic, and the vast crowd of slackers in the last war, might be compelled, if unhappily war should come, to take on a part of the first burden which, the belief is, will be certain to fall under coming conditions to the lot of the former fighters to assume.

When it was proposed under the last administration to maintain a regular army of 250,000, the proportion of 17,000 commissioned officers was fixed as being proper. The army has been reduced to 150,000 men, 130,000 less than the number originally contemplated. Now it is said that congress possibly may legislate a large number of regular army officers out of their commissions.

Fight Against Fewer Commissions.
It can be said from first knowledge that the War department, and this of course means the administration, will resist any attempt to deprive some thousands of young Americans of their commission in the regular army. There are today 13,000 such commissioned officers, for the force never was brought up to the strength contemplated when the proposal for an army of 250,000 men was made. Admittedly, however, an army of 150,000 would be over-commanded if 13,000 officers were assigned to active duty with the troops.

The contention of the War department is, however, that even with the reduced number of men in the ranks there will not be too many commissioned officers if the present number, 13,000, is kept as was said.

there is plenty to be done by that part of the commissioned personnel which is not serving actively with the troops.

A large number of officers, the authorities say, must be assigned to duty in connection with the reserves, the National Guard, the army schools, and to staff work. The authorities hold that there would be a crippling of the service if congress should take the action of reduction which it has been suggested it may attempt.

The War department is not slow to point out the justice side of the matter. The department is borne out by the records when it says that there was an appeal made by the government of the United States to young men to enter the regular army as officers and to make the service their life work. As a result hundreds upon hundreds of them gave over good paying positions in civil life and entered the army in response to the call.

WOMEN OF WASHINGTON EX-
TEND THEMSELVES TO ENTER-
TAIN FAMOUS WOMAN.

ALL SCIENTISTS TAKE PART

Notable Meeting in National Museum, and Another in White House When Gramme of Radium Was Given Its Discoverer.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.
Washington.—Washington has been honoring Mme. Marie Curie, the discoverer of radium, Polish by birth, French by adoption, and French also by citizenship because this woman scientist married a Frenchman.

Seemingly the women of Washington thought that they could not do too much in honor of this representative of their sex who, in circumstances of poverty and general discouragement, managed to make herself one of the greatest scientists of the world, and also through her research and endeavor found and gave to the people of the earth that radium which it is believed by many is a specific for one of the world's scourges.

At the National museum in this city scientists from all over the United States met to do honor to this scientist of France. Every woman's club in the capital and many women's clubs throughout the country were represented.

The meeting was an extraordinarily interesting one, because virtually for the first time an actual demonstration of the use of radium was made at a great public gathering. A scientist gave the demonstration, which was of holding interest.

Presented With Gramme of Radium.
Mme. Curie has been entertained in Washington by virtually every organization which the town holds. Not only the scientists but the laymen, too, have done her honor. The climax of her visit was the White House reception at which President Harding presented her with $100,000 worth of the curative material, radium, which she discovered. The radium which Mme. Curie will have in her possession during the years to come will enable her to put to curative use the material which she discovered and which she never has been able to own in sufficient quantity for practical use.

The amount of the radium which $100,000 will buy is only one gramme, but one gramme contains a power which is held by no other known material of like compass. It can be used over and over again and in fact it is said that it virtually is indestructible, some scientists fixing the life of radium at many hundreds of years and some of them even give it a longer lease of vitality and service.

One has no conception of the difficulty which met the scientists who had charge of the meeting in the National museum in the matter of properly distributing the invitations thereto. In the hall in which Mme. Curie was greeted by the representatives of science and the women's organizations there are only about 700 seats. It is estimated that fully 5,000 people asked to be admitted and when it is taken into consideration that nearly every one of the 5,000 had some basic reason of scientific advancement or of work to recommend him or her for consideration, it readily can be seen that the task of selection was not an easy one.

Trouble for Mrs. Harding.
The troubles which beset the scientists, however, in connection with the meeting in the National museum were no whit more perplexing than those which met the wife of the President who, the presentation of the radium being in a sense a woman's event, took in charge the matter of arranging for the attendance in the East room of the White House. If there were 5,000 people who wanted to attend the National museum meeting, there were a good many more who wanted to attend the White House meeting; but it must be said that there was not the same insistent demand made on the White House by individuals. It is hardly a proper matter for people to request invitations to what in reality is the private home of the President of the United States and his wife.

The endeavor at both the National museum and at the White House was to see to it that the men and women who were invited were those who by right of achievement had every reason to expect to be invited. Of course, there are some sore hearts among the populace, but in cases like this such a condition probably cannot well be avoided.

The women of France made much of Mme. Curie, but the women of France are not organized as are the women of America. Mme. Curie's stay in this country is likely to be marked by a series of events which will be memorable in the records of the life of American womanhood. From all over the country requests have come to have the nation's guest visit this city or that city. The French woman's itinerary will probably be in part left to her own selection, but it may be that she will yield her will to that of the great body of her American hostesses.

Beethoven composed some of his best music after he had entirely lost his hearing.

DRUGS EXCITE YOUR KIDNEYS, USE SALTS

If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Drink Lots of Water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by brushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

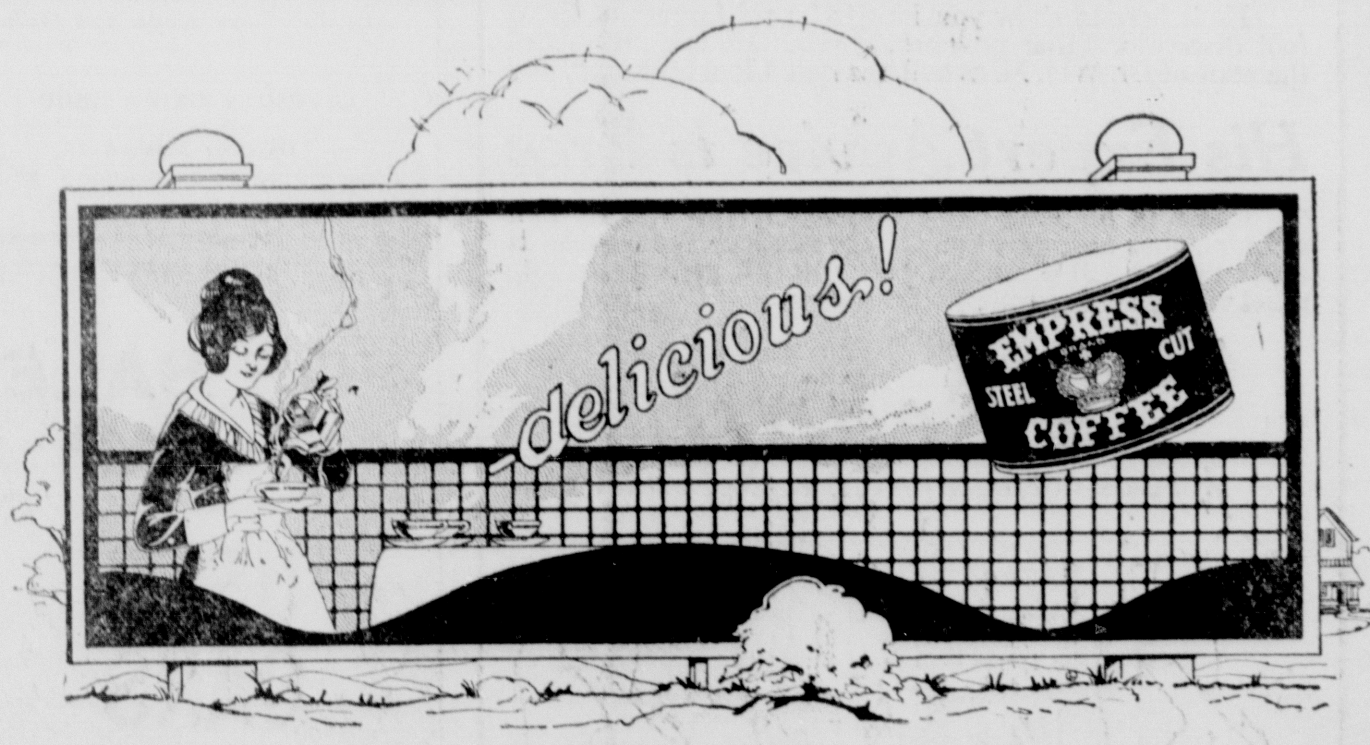

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

HIGH HONOR IS DONE MME. CURIE

WOMEN OF WASHINGTON EX-
TEND THEMSELVES TO ENTER-
TAIN FAMOUS WOMAN.

ALL SCIENTISTS TAKE PART

Notable Meeting in National Museum, and Another in White House When Gramme of Radium Was Given Its Discoverer.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Washington has been honoring Mme. Marie Curie, the discoverer of radium, Polish by birth, French by adoption, and French also by citizenship because this woman scientist married a Frenchman.

Seemingly the women of Washington thought that they could not do too much in honor of this representative of their sex who, in circumstances of poverty and general discouragement, managed to make herself one of the greatest scientists of the world, and also through her research and endeavor found and gave to the people of the earth that radium which it is believed by many is a specific for one of the world's scourges.

At the National museum in this city scientists from all over the United States met to do honor to this scientist of France. Every woman's club in the capital and many women's clubs throughout the country were represented.

The meeting was an extraordinarily interesting one, because virtually for the first time an actual demonstration of the use of radium was made at a great public gathering. A scientist gave the demonstration, which was of holding interest.

Presented With Gramme of Radium. Mme. Curie has been entertained in Washington by virtually every organization which the town holds. Not only the scientists but the laymen, too, have done her honor. The climax of her visit was the White House reception at which President Harding presented her with $100,000 worth of the curative material, radium, which she discovered. The radium which Mme. Curie will have in her possession during the years to come will enable her to put to curative use the material which she discovered and which she never has been able to own in sufficient quantity for practical use.

The amount of the radium which $100,000 will buy is only one gramme, but one gramme contains a power which is held by no other known material of like compass. It can be used over and over again and in fact it is said that it virtually is indestructible, some scientists fixing the life of radium at many hundreds of years and some of them even give it a longer lease of vitality and service.

One has no conception of the difficulty which met the scientists who had charge of the meeting in the National museum in the matter of properly distributing the invitations thereto. In the hall in which Mme. Curie was greeted by the representatives of science and the women's organizations there are only about 700 seats. It is estimated that fully 5,000 people asked to be admitted and when it is taken into consideration that nearly every one of the 5,000 had some basic reason of scientific achievement or of work to recommend him or her for consideration, it readily can be seen that the task of selection was not an easy one.

Trouble for Mrs. Harding.

The troubles which beset the scientists, however, in connection with the meeting in the National museum were no whit more perplexing than those which met the wife of the President who, the presentation of the radium being in a sense a woman's event, took in charge the matter of arranging for the attendance in the East room of the White House. If there were 5,000 people who wanted to attend the National museum meeting, there were a good many more who wanted to attend the White House meeting; but it must be said that there was not the same insistent demand made on the White House by individuals. It is hardly a proper matter for people to request invitations to what in reality is the private home of the President of the United States and his wife.

The endeavor at both the National museum and at the White House was to see to it that the men and women who were invited were those who by right of achievement had every reason to expect to be invited. Of course, there are some sore hearts among the populace, but in cases like this such a condition probably cannot well be avoided.

The women of France made much of Mme. Curie, but the women of France are not organized as are the women of America. Mme. Curie's stay in this country is likely to be marked by a series of events which will be memorable in the records of the life of American womanhood. From all over the country requests have come to have the nation's guest visit this city or that city. The French woman's itinerary will probably be in part left to her own selection, but it may be that she will yield her will to that of the great body of her American hostesses.

Said About Women.

But he that diggeth in the water is for ever fighting its contrariness."—From "The Book of Artemas." "If you describe a right woman in a laudable sense, she should have gentle softness, tender fear, and all those parts of life which distinguish her from the other sex."—Sir Richard Steele. "Last among the characteristics of woman is that sweet motherly love, with which nature has gifted her; it is almost independent of cold reason and wholly removed from all hope of reward."—Harder.
